Tricky ones: iguana – a large lizard; narwhal – a whale with a long tusk; quail – a small, plump bird; vole – a small animal, a bit like a mouse; x-ray fish – a little fish you can see through; yak – a big, hairy cow from the mountains.

How to use your Animal Stickers

Printing

- Print pages 3 and 4 (A–M and N–Z) on A4 or Letter full-sheet sticker paper, then cut out each tile.
- No sticker paper? Print on card stock and use them as alphabet cards or reward tokens.
- If the edges get cut off, choose “Fit to page” in your print settings.

Ideas for using them

- Letter-sound reward: a child says the letter sound and the animal name before they earn the sticker.
- Alphabet chart: collect all 26 stickers from A to Z.
- Beginning sounds: hold up a sticker and ask, “What sound does yak start with?”
- Alphabet order: print on card and line the animals up from A to Z.
